“ One of the things we enjoy about living on the Upper East Side is that there are so many restaurants that welcome children. My daughter, Alexandra [age 6], loves the veal piccata and pasta at Nicola's (146 E 84th St between Lexington and Third Aves; 212-249-9850). Another neighborhood favorite is Big Daddy's Diner (1596 Second Ave at 83rd St; 212-717-2020, bigdaddysnyc.com). It's very busy with tons of families, so if your children are a little wild, nobody minds. But just in case, always make sure that you have something to entertain them. We bring lots of markers and paper for Alexandra and her two-year-old brother, Charles, to play with. ”
